CHURCH USHERS. Those In Fashionable New York

Must Be Tall Men. "In the selection of church ushers luck all runs with the tall men," said a young man who was politely turned down by the board of trustees of a fashionable church. "New York is a city of tall men when it comes to showoff jobs. There are many distinct advantages to an ambitious man in serving as usher in a popular church. I bave been 'sub' in my congregation for two years in hope of getting a permanent appointment. I have remained in town during the fine spring and autumn Sundays while other fellows went 'outing.' I have been content to take a back seat on important church occasions. Now I am through. "One of our ushers resigned last month, and it seemed as though my went in. THE HUMAN NOSE.

Facts and Comments About This Most Characteristic Feature.

A nose which in any way suggests our ape-like ancestors, whether snub, flattened or abnormally small, is deemed ugly. Generally speaking, the long nose belongs to the people of Eu-The quickest and surest road to good health has been found by thousands of rope, whereas the negroes and Mongosufferers from stomach, liver and kid- lians have short noses. > Mantegazza has remarked that among civilized people the nose is nearly always deflected toward the right, which he attributes to the custom of wiping the nose with the right hand. Leonardo da Vinci discovered that there were over ten different varieties of nose seen in profile and eleven when looked at in front. Charles Blanc considered the nose the most characteristic feature of the face and recommended ladies to regulate the style of their dress with reference to its shape, and Lavater went so far as to assert that a beautiful nose was worth more than a kingdom; that it is never associated with an ugly face.-International Quar-

> A Thoughtful Act. The fiction of the friend who is coming to occupy the seat in the railway train that one has really secured as an extra seat for oneself sometimes works and sometimes doesn't. A passenger, hurrying along the platform just before the train started, flung himself upon a seat that was already occupied with a Gladstone bag. That seat is taken," said a morose old gentleman. "My friend has kept it with his bag." "All right," said the wily passenger affably. "I'll occupy it till he comes." Of course the friend never came, and inst as the train was moving out of the station the wily passenger seized the bag and threw it out of the window. "What are doing, sir?" shouted the old gentleman furiously. "Anything the matter?" inquired the other. "You don't want your poor friend to lose his bag, do you?"-London Chron-

October and the 13th of every other month the ides they do not seem to have known for certain themselves. Some thought it meant the halfway day of the month, from an Etruscan word meaning "to divide," but modern philology, digging into Sanskrit, has suggested that it means the bright time of the month, full moon.-London Notes and Oueries.

Accuracy of Marksmanship,

Ability to shoot straight is to some extent a natural gift, and it is useless trying to make a captain of a gun of a man who does not possess this faculty. He may be a good enough man in other ways, but unless he has "a straight eye" he will never become much of a marksman. The admiralty recognizes this and has ceased trying to make crack shots of men whose talents do not lie in that direction.-Pall Mall Gazette.

Blessings of an Alphabet. "Few people realize," said a college professor, "that the twenty-six symbols that we call the alphabet represent sinful. Price 50 cents and $1.00, drug- gly or in combination all the sounds of all the languages upon earth. By forming letters into words we are able to embody thought, to render it visible, audible, perpetual and ubiquitous. Embalmed in writing, the intellect may thus enjoy a species of immortality upon earth, and every man may paint an imperishable portrait of his own mind immeasurably more instructive and interesting to posterity than those fleeting likenesses of face and form intrusted to canvas or even to bronze and marble. What myriads have passed away, leaving not a wreck behind them, while the mental features of some contemporary writer survive in all the freshness and integrity with which they were first traced! Literary painting is the greatest of all delineation! For it we may thank the alphabet and the Phoenicians for the alphabet. "It was Gibbon, I thek, who said that Phoenicia and Palestine would ever live in the memory of mankind since America as well as all Europe had received an alphabet from one and a religion from the other."

Eccentric Wagon Wheel.

A very interesting paradox is the one concerning an ordinary wagon wheel, which is solid and rigid, yet when fastened on its axle on a wagon when the wagon moves part of the circumference of the wheel which is in contact with the ground is for an instant at absolute rest, while the point directly perpendicular to it is flying along at a high rate of speed. The two points horizontal with the center of the wheel are traveling pretty fast, but only half as fast as the topmost point, and as the up going horizontal point increases in speed the down going one slows up until it is at rest for a moment when in contact with the ground. Yet the wheel s one solid piece and there are only two points going at the same rate of speed at the same time. Yet if the wheel is taken off the axle and rolled down an incline every point of the circumference moves at the same rate of Ireland's Sacred Oak.

In years gone by Ireland had a saered oak dedicated to St. Columban. one of the peculiarities of the tree being that whoever carried a small bit of the wood or bark in his mouth would ? never meet with a violent death, it being especially efficacious in saving Christian martyrs from the block. It was known throughout the British isles as the holy oak of Kenmere. After the lapse of many centuries this pacred oak was uprooted by a storm, ifter which it was said to be guarded by angels to keep heretics from gathering the wood for fuel. At last a wicked tanner "barked" one of its largest limbs and tanned some leather, which he made into shoes for himself, imagining that such relies would bring him wealth and power. He wore them but once, however, but that one time was enough to make him an incurable leper.
